

INDIANA.

Convention of the Democracy—
Very Harmonious Gathering—An able Representation of the State.

The Platform Thoroughly in Sympathy with the Liberal Movement—Greeley and Brown Indorsed.

Hendricks Nominated for Governor, DePaw for Lieutenant-Governor.

Kerr and Williams for Congress from the State at Large.

The Democracy of the State of Indiana have declared in no equivocal or uncertain terms for Horace Greeley for President and B. Gratz Brown for Vice-President of the United States, and we have little doubt that the Democracy who furnished him and for the party he loves so well to outrun his disunion, will follow him to the National Democratic Convention meeting at Baltimore on the 19th of July. We cannot believe that the militant representative who deserves so well from the country at large will be an exception to a rule that is general with the Democracy of his State, and refuse to support Greeley and Brown. He will, like a true Democrat, as he is, concede his individual judgment and go with the majority. The Democracy of Indiana have spoken clearly and with unanimity, by so doing have insured not only the success of the admirable State ticket they present, but the ticket in the support of which nearly all the Democrats of all the States stand pledged. Texas and Arkansas remain to be named. From them, too, will not doubt fall into line, so that the South may present a solid front at Baltimore for the Philosopher of Chippewa.

Of the State ticket our fellow-Democrats of Indiana have put in the field, there can be but one opinion, and that of the most favorable character. Mr. Hendricks enjoys, and deserves, a national reputation. He unites the qualities of the highest statesman, lawyer, those of a profound statesman, and has often been acknowledged by his opponents. He fills a large measure of public attention, and all things justifying it, would perhaps be to-day the strongest candidate for the Presidency. The Democracy of the Union could present him as a thoroughgoing Democrat, a reliable and pains-taking leader, and a gentleman who will do credit to the high position which he has been nominated to; and, besides, with all the rest of the ticket, will be elected. Mr. Kerr, honored with the acquiescence of the State at large, is a Congressman, has already served five terms in Congress, and with such distinction as to win from the Republicans very high encomiums for abilities which secured him the devotion of the Democracy of his State. Many of whom would have been delighted to see him at the head of the ticket. Mr. Williams, the other candidate for the State at large is a gentleman of ability, a Democrat of unquestioned strength with his party, and personally very popular throughout the State. All these gentlemen are effective, brilliant and able speakers, and we believe that the possession of these qualities had something to do in their selection, the Democrats of Indiana having determined upon success over a party that is managed with only a view to "power and pelf."

We received reports at a late hour last night from the Democratic State Conventions held yesterday in Vermont, Iowa, South Carolina, Kansas, and Missouri, at each of which resolutions were adopted unanimously endorsing Horace Greeley and B. Gratz Brown, and the Cincinnati platform.

THE TREATY.

The Meeting of the Geneva Arbitration on the Fifteenth—A Little Obstacle in the Shape of Russian Gold.

New York, June 12.—A special London dispatch says the assembly of the Geneva Arbitration is the greatest subject of discussion. There is no provision in the treaty that requires the meeting of the Arbitration to be held in London, but they had intended to have a meeting on that day, so both governments must have delivered their first papers on that day, and the Arbitration must close their arguments. The difficulty in the case is that England would not allow the United States to join in a postponement of the meeting, but no meeting is positively provided for. If England adds for a postponement, the request involves the consent of a majority of the treaty, as the purpose is to delay the American view.

The general feeling in Europe is that England is afraid of arbitrators, and is endeavoring to insult the honor of the tribunal. The current opinion is that the quarters that Russian money is operating against England. Count Schuchberg is mentioned as the contractor for the Atlantic work for which he was expelled from Washington. It is believed that Prince Gortchakoff's influence and power are so formidable to be made successful.

A Washington dispatch says, yesterday the British Minister received a telegram from Earl Granville, declaring that at a Cabinet meeting on the treaty question, it was decided to send another note to Minister Schuchberg to the course of the treaty, and the meeting of arbitrators June 15th. The British arbitrators, as is stated in this note, are instructed to repair to London on the fifteenth of the present month, and to submit to the arbitrators a request for an extension of the time of the plea that the difficulties between the two governments have not yet been solved, although it is hoped that they will eventually be removed.

The agent is further directed to explain that inasmuch as the contracting parties are not yet in accord as to the subject matter of reference to arbitration, Her Majesty's government declines to put in their argument as required by the treaty, or take any other step in the arbitration at the present time. Further should adjustment be ordered in accordance with what England desires to be authority and power of the treaty, Her Majesty's court reserve all their rights as heretofore to the treaty, and will continue to put in their argument as required by the treaty, or take any other step in the arbitration at the present time.

No answer will probably be sent to this latest proposal, but the ultimatum of our government to the supplemental article, and if the English agent is directed on the fifteenth to appear, as a desire to terminate the arbitration, and the failure of this arbitration involves the whole case.

A historical fact impels marshals of France to be executed when a drawing and called upon to answer for their acts, and so Marshal Bazaine has the disadvantage of precedent against him, and although Goldsmith's saying that "predecessor never sacrifices justice" may be true enough, yet it often happens that men meet punishment merely because others have done so. Francis I created the office of marshal, and since his time but five men have held the position have been regularly tried for their lives, and all have been executed. First Marshal de Retz was hanged and his body buried in 1425. In 1625, Marshal Biron was decapitated. The Duke de Guise for conspiracy against Henry IV. Marshal de Marillac died in 1625 on the scaffold for conspiracy and rebellion against Cardinal Richelieu; in the same year Marshal de Montmorency suffered the same fate, and in 1815 Marshal Ney was shot because he would not be guilty of treachery to Napoleon.

view reform, and trusted that the party now seeking co-operation with the Democratic party would be able to achieve it. Referring to the coming convention at Baltimore, he said he thought this convention

FORWARDED THE TESTIMONY of the result of which he pledged his support. He was not afraid of the rings by which Grant was surrounded, and the question was not as to the election of Grant in power, but the continuance of the corrupt rings by which the Government was governed. In conclusion, promised to do all he could to insure the success of the ticket. As the State went to October, it would go in November. We have turned our backs upon the past, we stand in the present and look to the future.

THE PAST IS LOST. To us the future is ours. Let us make it a glorious one.

There were calls for DePaw, but the Chair announced that he was not in the city.

The Chair announced the next business in the order to be the nomination of congressmen at large. On motion it was resolved to ballot for both at once. The following persons were named in nomination:

CANDIDATES FOR CONGRESS.

Colonel John T. Williams, of Tippecanoe; Ron Thomas, of Cobb; Knox, of Carroll; John W. DePaw, of Boone; of Kossuth; George W. Jones, of Wayne; William Harrow, of Posey; Colonel J. M. Gray, of Randolph; Colonel M. Allen, of Vincennes.

MR. JULLIAN'S LETTER.

INDIANAPOLIS, 12th, June 12, 1872.

DEAR SIR—I go home this morning, and will leave a line for you, to be used if there should be occasion for it. While I hope the convention to-day will place some Liberal Republican in the ticket, in order to make a more cordial and perfect union against the common foe, I must not, in the hour of the convention, be a candidate for any place. I do not want the position of Congressman for any other reason. I want no office whatever, but shall

to the extent of my health and strength, and I believe I can do so more effectively, as an independent citizen, than I could in the attitude of a seeker of place. Please have this letter before the Convention, if there should be any serious proposal to nominate me.

Yours truly, J. M. JULLIAN.

The names of Messrs. Allen and Gray were withdrawn, and the call of the Convention was proceeded with. Messrs. Harrow, Gray and Julian are Liberal Republicans. Mr. Williams was nominated on the first ballot, and Hon. M. C. Kerr on the second ballot. A resolution was offered inviting the delegates to the Baltimore Convention to

MR. JULLIAN'S LETTER.

INDIANAPOLIS, 12th, June 12, 1872.

DEAR SIR—I go home this morning, and will leave a line for you, to be used if there should be occasion for it. While I hope the convention to-day will place some Liberal Republican in the ticket, in order to make a more cordial and perfect union against the common foe, I must not, in the hour of the convention, be a candidate for any place. I do not want the position of Congressman for any other reason. I want no office whatever, but shall

to the extent of my health and strength, and I believe I can do so more effectively, as an independent citizen, than I could in the attitude of a seeker of place. Please have this letter before the Convention, if there should be any serious proposal to nominate me.

Yours truly, J. M. JULLIAN.

The names of Messrs. Allen and Gray were withdrawn, and the call of the Convention was proceeded with. Messrs. Harrow, Gray and Julian are Liberal Republicans. Mr. Williams was nominated on the first ballot, and Hon. M. C. Kerr on the second ballot. A resolution was offered inviting the delegates to the Baltimore Convention to

MR. JULLIAN'S LETTER.

INDIANAPOLIS, 12th, June 12, 1872.

DEAR SIR—I go home this morning, and will leave a line for you, to be used if there should be occasion for it. While I hope the convention to-day will place some Liberal Republican in the ticket, in order to make a more cordial and perfect union against the common foe, I must not, in the hour of the convention, be a candidate for any place. I do not want the position of Congressman for any other reason. I want no office whatever, but shall

to the extent of my health and strength, and I believe I can do so more effectively, as an independent citizen, than I could in the attitude of a seeker of place. Please have this letter before the Convention, if there should be any serious proposal to nominate me.

Yours truly, J. M. JULLIAN.

The names of Messrs. Allen and Gray were withdrawn, and the call of the Convention was proceeded with. Messrs. Harrow, Gray and Julian are Liberal Republicans. Mr. Williams was nominated on the first ballot, and Hon. M. C. Kerr on the second ballot. A resolution was offered inviting the delegates to the Baltimore Convention to

MR. JULLIAN'S LETTER.

INDIANAPOLIS, 12th, June 12, 1872.

DEAR SIR—I go home this morning, and will leave a line for you, to be used if there should be occasion for it. While I hope the convention to-day will place some Liberal Republican in the ticket, in order to make a more cordial and perfect union against the common foe, I must not, in the hour of the convention, be a candidate for any place. I do not want the position of Congressman for any other reason. I want no office whatever, but shall

to the extent of my health and strength, and I believe I can do so more effectively, as an independent citizen, than I could in the attitude of a seeker of place. Please have this letter before the Convention, if there should be any serious proposal to nominate me.

Yours truly, J. M. JULLIAN.

The names of Messrs. Allen and Gray were withdrawn, and the call of the Convention was proceeded with. Messrs. Harrow, Gray and Julian are Liberal Republicans. Mr. Williams was nominated on the first ballot, and Hon. M. C. Kerr on the second ballot. A resolution was offered inviting the delegates to the Baltimore Convention to

MR. JULLIAN'S LETTER.

INDIANAPOLIS, 12th, June 12, 1872.

DEAR SIR—I go home this morning, and will leave a line for you, to be used if there should be occasion for it. While I hope the convention to-day will place some Liberal Republican in the ticket, in order to make a more cordial and perfect union against the common foe, I must not, in the hour of the convention, be a candidate for any place. I do not want the position of Congressman for any other reason. I want no office whatever, but shall

to the extent of my health and strength, and I believe I can do so more effectively, as an independent citizen, than I could in the attitude of a seeker of place. Please have this letter before the Convention, if there should be any serious proposal to nominate me.

Yours truly, J. M. JULLIAN.

The names of Messrs. Allen and Gray were withdrawn, and the call of the Convention was proceeded with. Messrs. Harrow, Gray and Julian are Liberal Republicans. Mr. Williams was nominated on the first ballot, and Hon. M. C. Kerr on the second ballot. A resolution was offered inviting the delegates to the Baltimore Convention to

MR. JULLIAN'S LETTER.

INDIANAPOLIS, 12th, June 12, 1872.

DEAR SIR—I go home this morning, and will leave a line for you, to be used if there should be occasion for it. While I hope the convention to-day will place some Liberal Republican in the ticket, in order to make a more cordial and perfect union against the common foe, I must not, in the hour of the convention, be a candidate for any place. I do not want the position of Congressman for any other reason. I want no office whatever, but shall

to the extent of my health and strength, and I believe I can do so more effectively, as an independent citizen, than I could in the attitude of a seeker of place. Please have this letter before the Convention, if there should be any serious proposal to nominate me.

Yours truly, J. M. JULLIAN.

The names of Messrs. Allen and Gray were withdrawn, and the call of the Convention was proceeded with. Messrs. Harrow, Gray and Julian are Liberal Republicans. Mr. Williams was nominated on the first ballot, and Hon. M. C. Kerr on the second ballot. A resolution was offered inviting the delegates to the Baltimore Convention to

MR. JULLIAN'S LETTER.

INDIANAPOLIS, 12th, June 12, 1872.

DEAR SIR—I go home this morning, and will leave a line for you, to be used if there should be occasion for it. While I hope the convention to-day will place some Liberal Republican in the ticket, in order to make a more cordial and perfect union against the common foe, I must not, in the hour of the convention, be a candidate for any place. I do not want the position of Congressman for any other reason. I want no office whatever, but shall

to the extent of my health and strength, and I believe I can do so more effectively, as an independent citizen, than I could in the attitude of a seeker of place. Please have this letter before the Convention, if there should be any serious proposal to nominate me.

Yours truly, J. M. JULLIAN.

The names of Messrs. Allen and Gray were withdrawn, and the call of the Convention was proceeded with. Messrs. Harrow, Gray and Julian are Liberal Republicans. Mr. Williams was nominated on the first ballot, and Hon. M. C. Kerr on the second ballot. A resolution was offered inviting the delegates to the Baltimore Convention to

MR. JULLIAN'S LETTER.

INDIANAPOLIS, 12th, June 12, 1872.

DEAR SIR—I go home this morning, and will leave a line for you, to be used if there should be occasion for it. While I hope the convention to-day will place some Liberal Republican in the ticket, in order to make a more cordial and perfect union against the common foe, I must not, in the hour of the convention, be a candidate for any place. I do not want the position of Congressman for any other reason. I want no office whatever, but shall

to the extent of my health and strength, and I believe I can do so more effectively, as an independent citizen, than I could in the attitude of a seeker of place. Please have this letter before the Convention, if there should be any serious proposal to nominate me.

Yours truly, J. M. JULLIAN.

The names of Messrs. Allen and Gray were withdrawn, and the call of the Convention was proceeded with. Messrs. Harrow, Gray and Julian are Liberal Republicans. Mr. Williams was nominated on the first ballot, and Hon. M. C. Kerr on the second ballot. A resolution was offered inviting the delegates to the Baltimore Convention to

MR. JULLIAN'S LETTER.

INDIANAPOLIS, 12th, June 12, 1872.

DEAR SIR—I go home this morning, and will leave a line for you, to be used if there should be occasion for it. While I hope the convention to-day will place some Liberal Republican in the ticket, in order to make a more cordial and perfect union against the common foe, I must not, in the hour of the convention, be a candidate for any place. I do not want the position of Congressman for any other reason. I want no office whatever, but shall

to the extent of my health and strength, and I believe I can do so more effectively, as an independent citizen, than I could in the attitude of a seeker of place. Please have this letter before the Convention, if there should be any serious proposal to nominate me.

Yours truly, J. M. JULLIAN.

RIVER INTELLIGENCE.

Boats Leaving To-day.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

Vicksburg, New Orleans, 5 p.m.

St. Louis, City of Chicago, 5 p.m.

FURNAL NOTICE.

WEIR-The friends and acquaintances of Mr. W. H. Weir are invited to attend the funeral of his wife, Mrs. E. L. Weir, this (THURSDAY) morning, at 10 o'clock. Services at the residence, east side of Elmwood Cemetery, near W. H. Weir. Carriages at attendance at 10 o'clock.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

MISSOURI STATE LOTTERY.

INCORPORATED IN 1851.

OFFICIAL DRAWINGS.

MORNING CLASS NO. 20.

75, 60, 30, 15, 10, 5, 2, 1, 1/2, 1/4, 1/8, 1/16, 1/32, 1/64, 1/128, 1/256, 1/512, 1/1024, 1/2048, 1/4096, 1/8192, 1/16384, 1/32768, 1/65536, 1/131072, 1/262144, 1/524288, 1/1048576, 1/2097152, 1/4194304, 1/8388608, 1/16777216, 1/33554432, 1/67108864, 1/134217728, 1/268435456, 1/536870912, 1/1073741824, 1/2147483648, 1/4294967296, 1/8589934592, 1/17179869184, 1/34359738368, 1/68719476736, 1/137438953472, 1/274877906944, 1/549755813888, 1/1099511627776, 1/2199023255552, 1/4398046511104, 1/8796093022208,